FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Section of a Giant Redwood Tree San Francisco, June 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Preparations are being made to take out a section of one of the large redwood trees of California for exhibition at the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893. The section of the tree which will be sent will be the largest ever taken from the State, and will be nine feet in height and sixty feet in circumference. The tree itself will be one of the mammoth forest in Tulare county, and measures ninety-nine feet in circumference. The work of felling the tree and preparing the section has already begun, and will employ ten men at least two months. Three flat cars will be required for transportation of the exhibit, which is expected to weigh about six thousand pounds. Several suggestions have been made to the State Board of Trade for setting up the tree at the World's Fair, but no plan to that end has yet been matured.

SANTA ANA.

An influx of Democrats—The School Census, Etc. SANTA ANA, June 5.—[Special.] J. V. Coleman, James T. Murphy, J. G. Estudillo, J. de Barth Shorb and Judge Richard Egan spent the day in this city. They were introduced to the citizens generally, and this evening took their departure for San Diego. The school census, although not yet complete, will show but little change from that of last year. The latest census gave 994 children to Santa Ana and 308 to Orange. Stephen S. Hoff was arrested today on a warrant charging him with defrauding creditors. The complaint is sworn to by Buckingham & Hecht, boot and shoe manufacturers of San Francisco. Hoff sold out his boot and shoe store here lately, and being in debt to dealers, endeavored to do the fair thing by dividing the proceeds among his creditors, but he was arrested before he could do so. Hoff has no intention to defraud any one.

The train consists of 40 cars, and is divided into three sections.

Cinched by Contractors.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The Chronicle prints a statement made by George R. Hanks, who was employed for seven weeks as bricklayer at the new City Hall, in which he says the walls in the Larkin-street wing, now in course of erection, have been filled with dirt and rubbish instead of solid brick. He estimates that 15,000 brick have been saved in this manner. Hanks conducted Mayor Ford over the building this afternoon, and showed where poor material had been used. The City Hall Commission will investigate tomorrow.

Decreased Passenger Traffic.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—A statement has been prepared by General Passenger Agent Goodman of the Southern Pacific Company showing the east and west-bound overland passenger business of the road for the first four months of this year. The Rush Sails for the Bering Sea Fisheries.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States steamer Rush sailed today on a long cruise. She is in command of Capt. Coulson. Her campaign has not been fully mapped out, but the sailing orders require her to proceed to Bering Sea, where she will probably perform patrol duty.

One of her officers said that he expected very few seizures would be made this season. The Government has assumed a positive attitude that could not be misinterpreted, and very few "carpet-bagging" sealers and fishers would attempt to risk seizure by following up their illegal traffic.

A Fresno Elopement.

FRESNO, June 5.—Lizzie Cogan, daughter of Capt. Cogan of the Pacific whaling fleet, has eloped with Harvey M. Calderwood, foreman on her father's vineyard. LONDON, June 5.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A deputation from Scotland visited Chaplin, Minister of Agriculture, today and asked him to modify the restriction against the importation of American cattle. The chief arguments in support of their request were the scarcity of cattle in Great Britain and the absence of pleuro-pneumonia in America. Chaplin said the bulk of the farmers of Great Britain favored the restriction. He was unable to hold out the slightest hope of any modification of the present regulations governing the importation of cattle, even if cattle in America were to enter free from disease.

HORICULTURAL

The Commission Makes a Favorable Report.

THE RED SCALE RAPIDLY GOING.

Orange Trees Imported from Florida Carefully Inspected—The Danger of Infection—Useful Parasites at Work.

The following report was submitted to the Supervisors yesterday:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

The County Board of Horticultural Commissioners respectfully present their monthly report for the month ending May 31, 1890.

In the matter of imported orange stock from Florida, Mr. Mitchell, by instruction of this commission, has given his personal attention to every detail, and enforced a strict quarantine against every car received, the contents in a case instance being found infected with insect pests. The quarantine was only raised after the trees were thoroughly disinfected, remained intact for two weeks, and inspected and found free from insect pests.

With the exception of one car, now presumably enroute, there will be no further receipt of Florida stock until next fall.

With your kind approval we requested Prof. Coquillett, United States Entomologist, to make a special inspection of Florida trees that had been planted out one and two years, in Pomona, Riverside and other localities, and report to us for his opinion.

Florida insect pests will flourish in this climate.

As the result of his observations and interviews with other parties, Prof. Coquillett gives it as his candid opinion that were any of the Florida scales to be introduced into a large tract of orange trees where they would be in a great measure protected from the direct rays of the sun, that they would then continue to multiply and multiply in any portion of Southern California where orange trees can be grown successfully, an orange orchard in Dr. Coquillett's opinion would be a source of danger to the Florida scale insects there.

In some sense of this commission that the insects being introduced into the county on Florida trees are dangerous and injurious to the fruit interest, and that they have not been taken in the vicarious measures we have taken to prevent the spread of the pest, and we deem it of the utmost importance that in the future every car of Florida oranges should be inspected to prevent the introduction of the pests into the county.

We take great pleasure in rendering to you a report of our personal inspection of the orange orchards in Alhambra, San Gabriel, Lancaster and Santa Anita, where the Florida scale has been found.

The condition of the orchards in these localities, and all others in the San Gabriel Valley, during the past season, has been lamentable and alarming, on account of the presence of the red scale insect.

As the result of our inspection, we can report that throughout this valley the red scale has become a pest of the orange industry, 95 per cent. being destroyed by some agency, the origin of which cannot as yet be determined. As the result of this distressing orange-growing season, the loss of the trees, and the growers are in a happy and hopeful mood.

We found the larvae of the two-spotted lady-bug and the lacewing fly in vast numbers, greater than ever before.

Both of these predators are known to prey upon the red scale, although not confining themselves entirely to this means of sustenance, still, appearing in such numbers, we naturally conclude that they have materially aided in reducing the red-scale insect.

The months of July and August will determine as to the permanency of the disappearance of this pest, and until such time, according to the report of the horticultural commission, the white and red scales, this commission deems it its duty not to relax its vigilance.

Outside this district, there are localities where the red scale is present in such numbers as to be a serious pest, and it is our duty to keep the public informed of the same.

We, however, feel that grave mistakes have been made in spraying, and advise, in the country, that the use of the gas treatment of infected trees is essential.

This treatment, when intelligently applied, will bring the best results, with less expense to the grower.

We also desire to report that the Vedolia cardinalis is present in sufficient numbers in the country to be a serious pest, and it is our duty to keep the public informed of the same.

THE SILVER PROBLEM

Senate and House Seeking Its Solution.

Sherman Makes an Argument Against Free Coinage.

He Says It Would Cause the Demonetization of Gold.

The House to Take a Vote on the Silver Bill Tomorrow. The Caucus Substitute Offered.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—[By The Associated Press.] Senate.—The Silver Bill was taken up and Mr. Sherman addressed the Senate on the proposition of free coinage. He believed the majority of the people was opposed to opening the mints to free coinage. The national conventions of both political parties would, by decisive majorities, repudiate such a proposition.

Mr. Sherman addressed the Senate. He had, he said, consented to the increase of circulation proposed in the bill, $54,000,000 a year. He believed treasury notes based on silver bullion would be as safe a substitute for paper money as could be conceived. He did not fear to give to those treasury notes every sanction of value that the United States could confer. He did not object to their being made legal tender for all debts, public and private. That was far preferable to free coinage of silver. Passing to the question of the demonetization of silver in 1873, Mr. Sherman declared that at that time the silver dollar was the image of the past, lost to sight and memory, and ignored by two generations except as a convenience for the exportation of silver bullion. It was not until the Senator from Nevada (Mr. Stewart) did not know that silver was demonetized when he voted for the bill. The only wonder was that he knew of its existence. The bill was publicly discussed two or three years ago, and its objects were well known. No bill was ever more fully discussed than that. Yet his friend, Mr. Morrill, who had voted against it because it discontinued the charges for coinage, constitutionally denounced these conspirators from the Pacific Coast, all of whom voted for it and posed as victims. He had thought it necessary, in closing, to trace down the lie not only for himself but for all others engaged in that legislation. Coming back to the question of the bill, he said the result of free coinage would be to demonetize gold and cause gold to be hoarded or exported. Free coinage of silver would be a reversal of the established policy of the Government from the beginning. It would limit coinage to a single metal, and that silver. As sure as fate silver would, with free coinage, be the only standard of money in the United States. A pound sterling would be worth six dollars instead of four dollars and eighty-two cents, and the American dollar would be, as in colonial times, worth 3 English shillings, or four francs. In conclusion, Mr. Sherman said he would vote for any measure that would, in his judgment, secure and maintain the bimetallic standard—one that would not demonetize gold nor cause it to be hoarded or exported, but that would establish both gold and silver as a common standard, at a fixed ratio, not only in the United States, but in all the nations of the world.

Mr. Sherman congratulated himself and the country that the mark was off the faces of the so-called silver party which paraded before the Senate the Finance Committee's bill. If there were any question as to the attitude of the distinguished Senator from Ohio before he got up, no one who listened to him could now doubt that he (Mr. Sherman) was for a high standard, and that standard gold. It was for the abandonment of silver as a money metal, leaving it to be used only as subsidiary coin. He (Mr. Teller) welcomed the issue.

Mr. Stewart gave from his point of view, a résumé of the legislative proceedings, which demonetized the silver dollar of 1873. He declared that the amendment that demonetized silver was never read in either House.

Mr. Sherman produced the original bill of 1873, from the files of the Senate to show that not only was the amendment read and voted upon in the Senate, but it was amended on his (Mr. Sherman's) motion, and when the conference committee considered the disputed section, it was again amended in conference.

Mr. Stewart persisted in his assertion that the amendment had not been read.

Mr. Aldrich said that not only had Mr. Stewart voted on the amendment, but he actually spoke, about two sections of the bill, one of which prohibited any silver coinage but half dollars, quarters and dimes, and the other of which provided that no deposit should be received for silver coinage. How could the Senator say that he did not know silver was to be demonetized?

The Silver Bill then went over without action.

Senate bills granting pensions of $50 a month to the widow of Rear Admiral Donaldson and to the widow of Commander Winthrop of the Kearsarge, were passed; also the Senate bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Columbia River by the Oregon Railway Extension Company.

Adjourned.

House.—Mr. McKinley from the Committee on Rules reported a resolution providing that the House shall proceed immediately to the consideration of the Silver Bill, and that the consideration continue until Saturday, when the previous question shall be ordered. The previous question having been ordered on the resolution, forty minutes' debate was allowed.

Mr. Blount of Georgia had no objection to the time limited for debate, but he was informed that the chairman of the Committee on Coinage will be allowed to offer amendments which were admissible under the rules of the House. When they were offered there would be left no opportunity to the minority to offer any amendment. There would be given no opportunity to the part of the minority to offer amendments to the free coinage of silver. At the Republican caucus last night there had been much discussion, and it was necessary to whip in friends of free silver by means of this resolution. It had worked a shameful outrage on the minority. There were many men on the other side who would vote for free silver but for fear the President was in accord with the Secretary of the Treasury, and both were in accord with Wall Street.

Mr. Bland of Missouri said there was no doubt that a large majority of the House was in favor of unlimited coinage. To prevent that fact from appearing on the records it was proposed to grant every Democratic in the House and many Republicans. Every gentleman who voted for this resolution voted against free silver.

Mr. Cannon of Illinois said the resolution was simply a proposition that under the rules of the House the House should proceed at once to consider a bill of great interest to the country. The minority could offer every amendment to the bill that they could under the general rules. The minority, which was now clamoring for free coinage, had held the House in the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses and passed no bill for free coinage. They could not now fool the country, or even fool themselves.

Mr. Springer of Illinois said a Democratic House had passed the coinage bill. The Senate limited it, and the House was obliged to accept the limitation. It had been voted by Hayes and passed over his veto. He wanted to call the attention of the people to the fact that no amendment was to be offered to the bill, except as suggested by the chairman of the committee. He denounced this action as one to prevent representation of the people from carrying out their will.

Mr. Williams of Illinois said the resolution was intended to prevent the majority from legislating. He appealed to members of the other side who favored free coinage to stand by the interests of their people.

Mr. McKinley said the resolution was intended to give the House an opportunity to pass some silver legislation and give the country a silver bill which would be in perfect response to the general sentiment of the country. It was to give the House an opportunity to pass a bill which would take all silver bullion of the United States and utilize it for monetary purposes. It was to give the people, not $20,000,000 a month, but $40,000,000 a month, in free silver they could move to recommit, with instructions to the committee to report back a free coinage bill, and the coin-burners of Kansas could not have been very anxious for free coinage, when for four years they never even brought in a bill for that object. Talk about throttling the will of the majority! The majority of the House on the other side wanted to vote on free silver they could move to recommit, with instructions to the committee to report back a free coinage bill, and the coin-burners of Kansas could not have been very anxious for free coinage, when for four years they never even brought in a bill for that object. WATER WORKS.

The Ball Started A-Rolling
Last Night.A MASS MEETING OF CITIZENS.
Movement to Urge the City to Build or Acquire its Own System—Further Meetings Called.

A number of citizens met last night at Temperance Temple, on Broadway, to take some steps toward the agitation of the question of perfecting the water supply for the city and the ownership by the city of its water system.

C. M. Wells was chosen chairman of the meeting. He said the question is one of great importance, affecting the home of every one in the city. A great many do not realize the importance of the question. The people present are present for the purpose of seeing what course we are to pursue in the future to obtain pure water, enough of it and at reasonable cost.

Mr. Vinette was elected secretary. The chairman, referring to the small number present, said that the meeting had not been sufficiently advertised.

On motion of Jesse Yarnell, three vice-presidents were elected, with the chairman, are to act as a committee to provide for a mass meeting.

W. H. Workman, C. N. Earle and Dr. H. Stenhouse were elected as such vice-presidents, the chair and secretary to fill any vacancies should they occur.

On motion the number of vice-presidents was increased to six, and W. T. McIntosh, H. C. Register and S. A. Widney were selected.

On motion the committee was instructed to call a mass meeting for next Thursday night at Temperance Temple.

John Robson moved that it be the sense of the meeting that the basis of the discussion tonight be that it is the best interests of the city to have a permanent waterworks by a construction.

Mr. Yarnell thought it would be better to defer discussion until the next meeting. A motion was made to amend by omitting the word "construction."

Mr. Robson thought it important to get started straight and not wander off on a loose issue. He thought it essential to guide the committee by setting a basis for the next meeting. He was unanimously opposed to paying the water companies their franchise value for their plant, and had used the words "by construction."

E. H. Hutchinson was also opposed to buying up any of the old junk of the present water companies, and heartily favored the motion.

The amendment was withdrawn and the motion was unanimously adopted.

City Attorney General called on and stated that the contract with the water company was a crude affair, and that the city cannot be compelled to buy their plant, and that it has the right to put up its own works. The only trouble about the city owning its own works would be to pay for them. Bonds would have to be issued.

The only question he saw was the question of ways and means. He thought it would be a good idea to have a committee to get up some statistics for the next meeting, showing cost of plant, present city debt, and such matters for information.

On motion, such a committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Galbraith, J. T. Sheward and W. H. Workman.

Mr. McFarland on motion of Mr. Brackley, was added to the committee.

On motion of Mr. Ellsworth, the Mayor and City Council were united to be present at the mass meeting.

Mr. Van Dam moved the appointment of a committee of five on advertising, which prevailed, and the chair appointed as the committee, Messrs. Van Dam, Ellsworth, Yarnell, Judah and Register.

On motion of Mr. Ellsworth, the last committee of five was added to the first committee of vice-presidents, making a committee of ten.

The meeting then adjourned.

After the adjournment several members of the committee of thirteen held a meeting and adjourned to meet at the Safety Deposit building, corner of Temple and New High streets, this afternoon at 8:30 o'clock, and all the members are requested to be present.

ON THE RAIL.

Ventura Elects Delegates to the Convention.

The people along the coast have been considerably worked up over the scheme of the citizens of Santa Barbara to build a private railroad between Los Angeles and San Francisco, through the coast counties. The Santa Barbara meeting called a convention in San José for the 25th inst., and appointed five delegates, and asked all other towns and cities that take an interest in the scheme to do likewise. Los Angeles attempted to get up a meeting to appoint delegates, but the citizens did not turn out, and the meeting was a failure. Ventura was more successful, and has elected the following delegates: T. K. Bard of Huenehue, M. D. F. Richards of Saticoy, Antonio Schlapapetra, T. A. Rice and W. H. Wade of Ventura.

Yesterday morning a grass fire broke out on the Santa Fe's line to Pasadena, and soon spread to the brush. It made its way rapidly up the hillside, and in a short time the railroad people thought it would reach the Raymond Hotel. General Manager Wade at once sent a number of railroad hands out, armed with wet sacks, etc., and by 4 o'clock in the afternoon they succeeded in getting the fire under control. It was reported on the street that the fire had spread all over the city, and a number of people made their way to the tops of high buildings to get a view of the fire. All they could see was a dense smoke.

A SMALL ACCIDENT.
Last night at 7 o'clock the Santa Fe local from San Diego over the Surf Line met with an accident just the other side of San Juan. The engine, baggage-car and smoker left the track and went over in the ditch. It is supposed that the bad weather caused the accident. The Santa Fe officials report no one injured and but little damage to the cars and engine. The passengers did not get in until after 9 o'clock this morning.

Charles Dudley Warner and party, who have been in Southern California during the past few weeks, went north on their special car last night. They came up from San Diego last evening.

B. A. Worthington, A. N. Towne's private secretary, and Mrs. Worthington and sister, came down from San Francisco yesterday in rining and went to San Diego for their vacation.

The Crop Outlook.
(Huenehue Herald.)

Cool, cloudy weather during the past week has been favorable to growing grain, and if anything, the outlook is perhaps a trifle better than the week ago. There are indications of a lively demand for feed and seed barley from the other side of the river, and there is no question but that a large amount of the barley raised hereabouts will go that way. The Southern Mill and Warehouse Company and the Ventura Lumber Company are already hauling feed barley of last year's crop from Huenehue to Montalvo and Santa Paula to supply the demand along the line of the railroad. Heading has begun both in Pleasant Valley and on the Las Posas. June 1st will show about 4500 tons of barley on hand here, as against 5000 tons a year ago, while the receipts for the coming harvest are estimated at 6500 tons, as compared with 15,000 tons last year; so that the falling off from last year amounts to about 5000 tons or 45 per cent.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The $300,000 Bonds Called for by the Supervisors.
EL MONTE, June 2.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Referring to the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors in the matter of their call upon the public to vote on the 7th of June $250,000 in bonds to complete the courthouse, and $50,000 to furnish the same, apparently the Supervisors lose sight of several important factors which go to make or to damage a county and its chief city. For, first, without a back county there would be little use for the city of Los Angeles as a mercantile center.

Second—This back or supporting country has to be developed to do its best for the city.

Third—Loading the country with debt, especially in its present undeveloped state, will strangle its energies and hurt the country and the city as much.

Fourth—If this $300,000 be added to the bonds of the school district, there will be a total indebtedness, it is said, of nearly a million dollars. And if an annual interest will be in the vicinity of one hundred thousand dollars. This sum will go far toward, if it be not quite equal, to the annual expenditure of several of the older States, and is too much for our ability.

Fifth—The intelligent and most desirable eastern emigrant, accustomed to good and economical government, will be sure to note these glaring facts, to the great disadvantage of both the city and county of Los Angeles. For the above reasons it is not advisable for voters to consider well before voting Yes! If at all doubtful it will be perfectly safe to vote No!

It may be old-fashioned, but I think it the best to levy a direct tax. It will save very many thousands to the taxpayers, although, seemingly, not so easy as bonds.

FAIRMER.

An Idea.
LOS ANGELES, June 5.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Much has been said of late in THE TIMES about the filthy condition of our streets. Now it seems to me that if a plan could be carried out here (by law or otherwise) that I once saw in effect in an eastern city it would remedy the whole matter.

The plan is this: Owing every tenant or landlord on the paved streets to clean said street from the middle to the curb at regular intervals, the city to remove the collections. Give us an article on this method, and oblige one of your Old Readers.

How to Introduce Queens.
Many beekeepers want to know, at this time of the year, how they can Italianize their black or hybrid stock, and I am often asked for a safe and easy method for introducing queens.

As a general rule, bees that have been deprived of a queen and the means of raising one for forty-eight hours will invariably accept any fertile queen, and although this rule has been known to fail, yet you will probably succeed with it in nine cases out of ten. There are several methods for introducing queens. One of the best in raising professional apiarists and queen-breeders of the present day is known as the Simmins plan, which I will here describe:

Remove the queen from the hive that is to receive the stranger, placing the latter at dusk in a warm situation quite alone and without food, and so keeping her for thirty minutes. Then lift at one corner the honey-board or frame, and the queen will be introduced, driving back the bees with very little smoke and at once permit the queen to run down. Close the hive, make no examination for forty-eight hours, and leave the operation until so late that a lamp is necessary when the queen is introduced.

Although this is one of the best methods known, it is not always sure to succeed in the hands of a novice. The safest method in my opinion, is one which we use in our apiary at San Mateo for introducing valuable imported queens, and it is so easy that any one of ordinary intelligence may succeed with it. It is described as follows: Take an empty hive, go to one of the most populous colonies, and remove three or four frames of hatching brood (that is, young bees just coming out of the cells); sweep off every bee that is out of the cells and place the frames of brood into the empty hive, and fill up the hive with two or three combs of honey and empty combs or frames filled with foundation; then insert the cage containing your new queen between two of the combs of hatching brood and allow the queen to escape into the hive and close it up.

The newly-hatched bees will at once make the acquaintance of the queen, and you have no further trouble or fear of balling. My son, 14 years of age, uses this method constantly with our most valuable queens, and he succeeds with it every time. Of course, where there are a number of colonies to Italianize, the Simmins method would be the best to use, but for a few colonies in the hands of a novice, or for introducing a valuable queen, this is the easiest and safest method I know of.

Having introduced a tested Italian queen to a black or hybrid stock, if either of the above methods, the black or hybrid stingers will all disappear in a short time, and in their place you will behold the beautiful golden and gentle Italians.

TAKE
SPRING.

Nature should be assisted in the spring to throw off the heaviness of the sluggish winter circulation of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so prompt or so safely as SSS's Specific.

I have used S. S. S. for a number of years, and consider it the best tonic and blood remedy that ever used. In fact I would not attempt to enter upon a spring or summer in this climate without it.
